We do wrong to such wonderful tools as our senses when we do not give them the education they need. It is not surprising that parents who are so particular about the way their children hold their knife or spoon, pay so little attention to the way they use their eyes.

A GREAT BLESSING.

A new week begins to morrow. Many readers will be pleased to learn that they have another week's opportunity to get the benefit, advice and method of the great genius, Charles Lincoln Smith, who has won the most unequalled popularity in Richmond and vicinity by his skill and science, exclusive method and prescription glasses, which are his own discovery, and through which he has gained a national reputation.

If you have blurring, dizziness, neuraligia, headache, spots before the eyes, inflammations, winking, trembling spells, cataract, burning and smarting of the eyes, various nervous and brain affections entailing not only positive injury to the sight, but untold misery, call immediately.

LIFE WORTH WHILE.

Probably everybody connected with the general office of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway knows Wesson E. Ragan. Mr. Ragan has been in the employ of the railway company for about ten years, in fact ever since he was a boy, and is very popular with his aesociates.

Of late years he has been suffering the most intense pains with his head and a smarting sensation of the eyes. So bad had his trouble become that is was impossible for him to use his eyes at all, only when his work demanded it.

Although he has resorted to several remedies for relef, there was nothing that could be found to fill the bill until Charles Lincoln Smith paid a visit to the city. Mr. Ragan, hearing the many compilmentary remarks made of Charles Lincoln Smith method and prescription glasses, decided to call upon him.

After doing so and wearing the glasses for two days, he says "I never saw anything like it in my life, and I feet that life has become worth while.

"Why, last night, I took up a book, and read until midnight, something I have not been able to do before for two years. Am I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, "well I should say years, and I satisfied with my investment," he remarked, ment," he remarked, "well I should say yes, even if I lost my glasses now, at ter having them but a week. But I would want another pair in a hurry, though." Mr. Ragan says that he had not worn the glasses an hour before he noted a change in his eyes, and he is so enthusiastic over this good fortune that he don't like to talk of anything else.

He states: "For several years I was under the impression that it came from stomach trouble. About two years ago I was advised that it came from my eyesight. I then employed a specialist to correct it with glasses. My headaches still continued, so I sgain tried another kind of glasses, without any benefit, and I think I had about concluded that all eye specialists were humbugs. But at the particular request of one of my personal friends, I made up my mind to try once more. I had to do something. I was nearly crazed with nervous headaches, and as a last resort, I took my friend's advice, for which I shall ever feel grateful, and tried Charles Lincoin Smith, and his method of prescription glasses, and I am glad to say that he done for me that which all others had failed to do. Since I have his glasses. I have not had a particle of headache and my vision is simply perfect, and I feel Mr. Davis, a valued employe of the Tredegar Iron Works, has this to say in regard to the seeming miracle which has added brightness to their home.

About four years ago his little daughter, Helen, now eight years old, was taken down with the measles, and after recovering from that malady, it was found that her eyesight was seriously affected.

An eye specialist was immediately con-specialists were consulted within that time.

About one year ago the parents were increasing orderly distressed to think that their child should have to pass through such a trying ordeal, with but small chance of relief, they hesitated to have an operation performed, although the child suffered greatly with her eyes.

About this time Mr. Davis learned of the wonderful work of Charles Lincoln Smith, and consulting with him he placed little Helen's case in his skillful hands and has found that his fonders hopes are realized. He says "Now my little girl's eyes and eyesight are perfect, through his method and prescription glasses, and she can again attend school."

I had three different specialists attending me at different times for years, they requiring me to buy glasses and change them time and again, and I got little relief. It was hardly worth speaking of I could see all right, but my temples and eyes would ache intensely. They put drops and drugs in my eyes, and I could not see for two and three days afterwards. My husband and I were almost discouraged. The minute he read in the newspaper of the work of Charles Lincoln Smith, he called me into the parlier and said: I want you to go to Muritive vision, finally making it very hard indeed for her to see distinctly.

Although she had taken the advice of a specialist and procured glasses, they only afforded temporary relief, and the condition was very soon as had as ever. After trying the method of Charles Lincoln Smith's prescription glasses, she now says: "I am entirely relieved and consider it my duty to suffering humanity in recommending this wonderful man to all who are afflicted with defective eyesight." Lincoln Smith, he called me into the parlor and said: I want you to go to Murphy's Hotel in the morning. I asked why, Learning of the advent into our city of Charles Lincoln Smith, the noted New York expert, Sergeant Ctey decided to give his method and prescription glasses a trial.

He suffered with headaches, spots before the eyes, and at times a dizzineas, as if he were enveloped in a vast cloud, and blind for the moment. Since using Charles Lincoln Smith's glasses he says: "My eyesight is now all right and I no longer suffer from any of these defects."

SMALL BOYS PUNISHED.

Mayor Maurice had three small boys hefore him yesterday morning on the charge of petty thievery. They are believed to have committed a number of small offences, but the only charge against them that was pushed was that of taking a lot of preserves from the pantry of Mrs. Butler. Upon this charge the boys were sent to fall for thirty days. The boys would work a unique game. Two of them would go to the front door of a residence and ask for alms, while the third would go in the back way and pick up what could be carried away.

PHEUMATISM THE DREAD OF WINTER

The coming of winter, with its icy winds, damp, foggy weather, and sudden changes in temperature, will set the old rhoumatic joints to aching and the muscles to throbbing and twitching with such pains as only Rheumatism can inflict. Chronic sufferers need no better weather signals to warn them of approaching storms than their aching bones and muscles. They know from experience how the damp, easterly winds and night air increase their misery and rob them of restful sleep. Rheumatism is always worse in winter. Cold and dampness are exciting causes; they affect the circulation, stop perspiration, and the poisonous acids in the blood, no longer able to escape through the pores, settle upon the nerves and tender linings of the joints and muscles, causing inflammation and swelling and such terrible piercing pains that no wonder the nerves are shattered, the health undermined, and the patient often crippled and deformed for life.

Columbus, Ohio, May 10, 1908.
Six years ago I had a severe attack of Infiammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had Rheumatism begins and develops in the blood; it did me no good. They changed mediaine every week, but nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I left off their treatment and began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when is not a disease that comes in a night or that can be rubbed away in a day, but is a constitutional, well-grounded blood disorder that all the liniments and plasters ever invented cannot remove. Yet some people will go on dallying with external remedies for years, leaving the real cause of the disease untouched, the blood growing weaker and thinner and the joints and muscles more useless with each attack. This formidable disease and Dread of Winter is due to a general sluggish condition of the system and the presence of uric and other acid poisons in the blood. It is an internal disorder, that can only be cured by internal remedies. The aches and pains are only symptoms which you may scatter or relieve for a time by liniments or other outside applications, but they gather in some other part of the body, shifting from one set of muscles to another, and from joint to joint, and frequently strike the delicate machinery of the heart to another, and from joint to joint, and frequently strike the delicate machinery of the heart or some other vital spot. Rheumatism is never permanently cured till the blood has been purified and the sluggish system aroused to better action; and this is exactly what S. S. S. does. It thoroughly cleanses the blood and renovates the system by neutralizing the acids and expelling from the system all acrid matter. S.S.S. warms, enriches and invigorates the blood, improves the circulation and builds up and nourishes the weak, diseased nerves. S.S. S. acts also as a tonic, and as the general health improves, rheumatic pains are felt less often and gradually cease altogether. It is the thin, acid blood that is so easily chilled by the cold and affected by every ill-wind and change in the weather. Rheumatism and bad blood are inseparable, you do not have one without the other, and the surest and quickest way to get rid of Rheumatism is to restore the blood to a normal, healthy state. S. S. S. is composed of both purifying and tonic properties, just what is required in every case of Rheumatism. It contains no Potash, Alkali or other mineral ingredient, but is guaranteed entirely vegetable.

If you have Rheumatism in any form, write us fully about it, and our physicians will advise you without cost, and we will mail to your address our special book on Rheumatism, containing helpful information to everyone suffering from this painful complaint.
